LG HR Interview Questions With Answers

The first basic question you guys can expect in the HR Interview is "Introduce Yourself". Therefore, try to be innovative while answering it and try not to give mugged-up answers. And along with that check out the below questions to have an idea how the LG HR Interview will be like.

1. Why Should We Hire You?

After asking brief questions and your answers for them, the interviewer will now generally come to a conclusion about yourself. Like what kind of person you are, your personality, and your character. And he will make his decision according to it. But by asking this question they will wish to know "Why you believe you are the best fit for the particular job position". So, you can respond by saying "How you have knowledge about the work that is required to be done to achieve the positive result, How your strengths will help you in achieving the result you are desiring." Additionally, you can also add about your technical expertise in getting the job done and what makes you different from others.

2. Why Did You Choose Your Field of Study?

By asking this question, the interviewer wants to know whether the field you have chosen to study is what you have planned to make your career worthwhile or chosen for just the sake of it. So, don't get nervous even your field of study doesn't go along with the job you want to do. Explain to the interviewer what made you choose it and what you have learned in your academic which can help you in getting the current work done. The way you answer this question will show "How the knowledge you have acquired so far will help you in getting your work done efficiently and effectively".

3. Give Me An Example Of A Time You Did Something Wrong. How Did You Handle It?

To Err Is Human. Therefore, don't get nervous even while answering the mistakes you have done previously. It's not like the interviewer will be focussing on the mistakes you have done and consider that you are not fit for the job. No, all the interviewer wants to know is how you rectified your mistake and how you handled it. So, briefly explain to the interview about a certain situation where you have messed up and how you handled it without getting pressurized, and what you have done to rectify it, and what you have learned from your personal experience. And moreover, never say that you have never done any mistake and that you are a perfectionist, to impress the interviewer. That never works in the interview, and rather it shows that you are not being and giving genuine answers. Copyright to https://www.freshersnow.com/

4. Who are your Heroes?

Try not to give generic answers or point out names of Cinema personalities and say that you consider them as your favorite heroes. They may be your favorite because of the fights they do or the action stunts they do. But it's not what the interviewer will be expecting. They wish to know why you consider a certain person as your hero. Therefore, you can respond by saying "How you genuinely like the character traits they have (Like Honesty, Loyalty, Helping Nature, etc.), The way they work, The goals they have achieved, The hard work they have done to be where they're now, etc. So point out a particular reason why you consider a certain person as your hero. While answering this question, try to give names of the personalities who are from the same industry as you and how you aspire to be like them at a certain point in your life.

5. What do you know about our Company?

Doing basic research about the company before appearing for the interview will help you guys a lot in facing these types of questions. While replying to this question, make sure you guys cover basic details about "Company's Inception (When it has started, Started by whom), The company's Headquarters, The products they develop, Company's current market valuation, Its competitors, The latest Technologies they are using, Any newspaper article you have read about the company." Convey each and everything that you know about the company which will make the interviewer think about your awareness and knowledge about the company.
